INDIAN UPRISING.

The Blood Indians on the War-Path-A General Uprising Feared in the Northwest.

Taken-Roman Catholic Mission aries Mutilated.

OTTAWA, ONT', Sept. 29 .- Word bas just been received by the department of mounted police from Crow Creek agency, Northwest Territory, that the Blood Indians from that reservation had gone on the war path, and are destroying everything there in revenge for the killing of six of their band recently by the Gros Ventres. their band recently by the Gros Ventres. They left the reservation, so the report eays, Monday morning, after a war-dance, and went south to Hudson, where they came upon a small settlement of whites, some sixteen in number, of whom ten were women and children. These were all killed and scalped, the besieging party carrying off the scalps as trophies.

They then continued on their way toward the Gros Ventres' settlement. All along their tracks were many farm.

along their tracks were many farm-houses. They were all iaid in ashes and the inhabitants killed and scalped. Not less than one hundred whites have so far fess than one numbered whites have so far fallen victims to the red devils' knives. Among those killed are two Roman Catholic missionaries, at Crowfoot agency, whose bodies are said to have been terribly mutilated. All the whites at the reservation, including the Indian agent, have been killed. have been killed.

After leaving the agency about thirty miles toward the American border, Crowmiles toward the American border, Crowfoot fell in with about sixty Gros Ventres. A desperate fight ensued. The killed and wounded on each side cannot be estimated correctly, but it is believed Crowfoot lost nine killed and thirty wounded: Gros Ventres' tribe two.

A detachment of mounted police has been ordered out to put down the rising, but it is expected that the whole force, some fifteen hundred men, will be neces.

some fifteen hundred men, will be neces-sary, as the Rockies and Canada Sioux will join in the uprising. Crowfoot, chief of the rebellious tribe, is now on the way here. He cannot therefore be expected to use his influence to put down the ris-

Hon. A. P. Caron, minister of militia, Hon. A. P. Caron, minister of militia, will call out a force of at least two thousand infantry and cavalry to go to the scene of trouble and assist the mounted police. In the meantime, until they reach the scene, hundreds of lives may be sacrificed and an immense amount of property may be destroyed. A general uprising of the Indians is feared.

Literature in the West.

Estelline, Dak., Bell. A newspaper interview with Gen. Sher-man recently reports him as saying that he thinks not enough literary use has been made of the great story of the settlement of the West. The general is about right. But the trouble in the past has usually been that when a really good literary man has arrived in the West he has refused to take a drink with some native and immediately ceased giving active attention to literature. With the remains of the best in the darkness and at midnight, With a steady s lent trend— in the pale and solean gaslight, Me a savemble as in dread.

"LET THERE DE LIGHT."

Gather round a lonely stairway.

Where a watchman cold and stern Stops each pligrim in his pathway.

And from him his score learns.

And within this secret meeting.

From which handreds are debarred,
Though in freedom's name they're greeting.
Surely freedom's cause is marred.

For the watchman still is attaing By the still and stient stair, And this motto keeps transmitting, "None but halgnts can enter there."

But the world without is sleeping— similareds just as good as they— While the watchman keeps repeating, "None but anights can come this way."

And these Knights who thus assemble Like the secret Knights of old— And, however they dissemble They did there a plan unfold.

Not for legislative power
Whereby ights may end in law,
But for local greec and dower
And for crimes, a legal flaw.

Ard in session most exclusive Good men go who have a wrong, And by leaders most delusive Make the poor man's cause their song.

Thus they meet with class exclusion Not within the light or day— But in darkness breed confusion That a few gain local sway.

In this and where all are equal They would say for you and me, "We will show you how the sequel Of your boasted land and free."

Why not meet in open pinces
Where the world can see and hear,
From your careworn, weary faces
What you bear from year to year?

Round Old Justice make no classes, With a secret word or sign; Nor demand of any "passes," E'en they would yourgance malign.

Freedom me'er will grow in scoret, Justice ne'er will flourish there; But with proud, deflant spirit, Spreads its pinions everywhere.
